while serving as the counselor for the week. He leads sessions giving insight into the cultural shifts that have taken place in our society. He gives helpful counsel regarding parenting as reflected in his many books written on the subject. No one other than Charles Chandler, Executive and Founder of MTM, has served in more Wellness Retreats.

Arch Wallace, III, is shown receiving the Herny V. Langford Lifetime Service Award from Rev. Langford. Wallace is an attorney and pastor who has given hundreds of hours assisting ministers and their families during most difficult times of conflict and often termination. From the beginning days of MTM, Wallace has not only served on the Board of Trustees, but has also provided didactic sessions regarding conflict prevention and resolution for the Wellness Retreats. He has also given limitless hours of counsel and advise as he has coached ministers during conflictual situations in their ministry; he has also directly, professionally become involved in some dispute negotiations.

The Board of Trustees also established the Campbell-Wallace Award named after these two recipients. Each year, one or more persons whose commitment of time, energy and expertise through the Ministering to Ministers Foundation will be honored by being recipients of the Campbell/Wallace Award.
